Application

The Soloflex reflectors feature an excellent light quality with a brilliant detailed reproduction. The material combination of silver reflector and diffuser produces an ideal light output. The fabric diffuser ensures an uniform distribution of light, admitting a slight concentration in the middle, thereby allowing a highly brilliant reproduction with bright highlights. Illumination with Soloflex reflectors is by far superior to the diffuse illumination with umbrellas, since considerably less stray light is produced and light may conveniently be controlled and influenced. Stray light can also easily be screened against the camera. Transporting these folding reflectors does not cause any problems. They are ideal for use in the studio as well as for on location, in industry, in trade etc. There is hardly a sector in object, advertising, fashion and portrait photography where the Soloflex reflectors are unsuitable.
